Negative and interrogative form

... she saw him...

She tried to escape...

In the negative form we write using didn't and the verb comes to the present

She didn't see him...

... she didn't try to escape...

In the interrogative form we write did in the beginning of the sentence to indicate that is a question:

Did she see him?

Observe that using did the verb comes to the base form.

Did she try to escape?
